EDITOR'S MESSAGE

Greetings

Happy New Year! I hope everyone had a great Holiday season. I am sure everyone is enjoying a much milder winter this year! I think we earned it.

Congratulations to the SDSA and the NDSA for tremendous annual sales, meetings and banquets. A lot of time and energy goes into putting together these events and I would like to personally thank all those who put so much time in to make this event successful.

I encourage everyone to take a look through the pages of this issue and notice the high quality of cattle you find on every page. Some of the top Simmental and SimAngus bulls in the country that sell this spring are advertised in this issue. I would also like to thank the advertisers in this issue, who make it possible to publish. You have made this the highest revenue issue of the SD Simmenteller/ ND Scene since I started with the magazine.

Good luck to all those having production or private treaty sales this spring. Remember, the advertising deadline for the February issue of the Scene is January 20th!!

Sincerely,
Todd Finke

NORTH DAKOTA SIMMENTAL ASSOCIATION AWARD WINNER

2011 PIONEER AWARD ROGER KENNER - LEEDS, ND

The North Dakota Simmental Board of Directors, believes the recipient of the Pioneer Award should be someone who has been a trailblazer for others. This year's recipient has been a member of the North Dakota Simmental Association since about 1975. Since then he has served as a Director for six years and was President in 1986-87. He also served on the National level – being ASA Chairman in 2001, the only one so far from ND.

Roger Kenner of Leeds, ND is the owner of Kenner Simmental Ranch. He started using Simmental bulls in 1974 to cross on his Herefords, and actually sold bulls off the farm in 1976. At that time, Canada was so far ahead of the US in the Simmental breed, so he traveled to Bar 5 to purchase bulls and made several trips to Agribition in Regina.

During the transitional years of going from the big framed, spotted Simmental to the solid colored more moderate cow size, he used the genetics of the Full-Fleckvieh. Through the Fleck genetics, extensive AI work and some embryo transfer, the transition went very smoothly and within a couple of years, the cow herd was more efficient and marketable.

As the breed changed through the years, so did his cattle. He was one of the first breeders to flush a Simmental donor cow to an Angus bull and sell registered half-blood bulls in his sale. Since then, the SimAngus bulls have out-averaged or been the same as the Purebred bulls at his sale each year.

He still stays heavily involved in the Simmental business and strongly cares about our breed. Along with the cattle, he also runs a diversified grain farm that was started by his father, Alvin. He is married to Jeanette Kenner and they have 3 children, Erika, Jessica, and Brett and one grandchild – Osker.

NORTH DAKOTA SIMMENTAL ASSOCIATION AWARD WINNER

2011 PROMOTER OF THE YEAR AWARD MIKE TRAXINGER - CLAREMONT, SD

The North Dakota Simmental Association is very lucky to have so many out of state supporters! This year, the Board of Directors felt that it was time to recognize one of the out-of-state members for all of his promotion and success!

Mike Traxinger, Claremont, SD, grew up 5 miles east of Houghton, SD and graduated from high school in Hecla, SD in 1972. Growing up, he worked for local farmers and went to AI school as a sophomore in high school. That same year, he bred 25 of his dad's cows to Simmental bulls and settled 24! His artificial insemination talent put him through college and helped him start his own Simmental herd of cattle.

His 2011 bull sale averaged $4,180.00 on 35 bulls with one selling for $24,000. Also, each year at the ND State Simmental sale, his bred heifers usually end up among the high-sellers and have done well for their new owners. This doesn't happen with luck, but by doing an excellent job of promotion and being diligent and focused on the breeding program. He truly believes in the Simmental breed and it shows. He is promoting Simmental everywhere he goes!

In 2009, he was chosen to be the Associate Judge for the Simmental Pen of Three at the National Western Stock Show, in Denver, Colorado.

He works closely with his wife on the ranch Terri Gates Traxinger. They have 2 children, Mike E. and Brittney. They have an annual bull sale in February at the ranch. Off the farm, he enjoys golfing and is a South Dakota high school football referee.

NORTH DAKOTA SIMMENTAL ASSOCIATION AWARD WINNER

2011 COMMERCIAL PRODUCER OF THE YEAR AWARD BRENT AND ANISSA GREGOR - MILNOR, ND

The 2011 Commercial producer of the year is a fourth-generation rancher from the Milnor Area. Brent and Anissa Gregor began ranching in the mid 1990's and in the following years have grown their SimAngus herd from 75 to 600 head.

They purchased their first Simmental bulls from Mac Pherson of Rutland. From the beginning, the Gregors saw a lot of potential in the Simmental breed and particularly appreciated the disposition, growth and performance they saw.

Today, nearly every cow on the Gregor place is home-raised and each one will be out of AI genetics within 2 to 3 years. The Gregors began AIing several years ago to keep replacement heifers and they have continued to AI and synchronize their cattle to improve uniformity and shorten their calving season, which they've accomplished. Four out of five cows on the Gregor ranch calve within the first cycle.

Brent and Anissa live on the ranch that was homesteaded by Brent's Great Grandfather more than 100 years ago. It is located near the edge of the national grasslands in southeastern North Dakota.

In addition to the Simmental Cattle, The Gregors are partners in MG Custom Harvesting, a company that chops haylage and corn for area producers. Brent also enjoys building livestock equipment and has custom-built calving barns, feedbunks, wind breaks and calf shelters. Anissa teaches English in Milnor. They have two children. Their daughter Kylie is 17 and their son Ty is 14.

SIM CHOICE OBTAINING PREMIUMS WHILE INCREASING DEMAND

CONTRIBUTED BY: WILL TOWNSEND
WESTERN FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

Are you age and source verifying your calves? The premiums for age and source verification are still high enough to be worth the effort and money in most situations. We also know the demand is there for English-Continental crosses with Simmental influence. According to some Superior Livestock Video Auction data assembled by the Colorado State University Beef Management Systems Group, in 2010, English-Continental crosses with Simmental influence brought a $0.63/cwt premium over English-Continental crosses with no Simmental influence. You may realize by now where I'm going with this. Why not use SimChoice?

SimChoice is very competitively priced at $2.50 per head. This includes the E.I.D. tag, the large drop tag (numbered how you want, the option for information on the back like your ranch name and the clear identification of SimAngus or Simmental-influenced cattle) and the audit with your local field man (another great opportunity to get him out to look at your cattle and visit about other issues or events in the industry). Most of all these tags are a great opportunity to increase the demand for Simmental-influenced cattle. There are a handful of commercial producers using the program due to the competitive pricing of the E.I.D. tags or to showcase the Simmental influence in their cattle in hopes of getting higher prices for higher quality genetics. However, SimChoice does not have the presence in the market place that it should.

What better way to obtain a presence than with our breeders' slaughter cattle and feeder calves? You know, and we know, that our breeders have some of the highest quality genetics in the beef industry. If we start tagging those cattle SimChoice and cattle buyers relate those genetics with SimChoice, we can increase the demand for our bull buyers' Simmental influenced and SimAngus calves. Also, offer the service to your bull buyers. If you sponsor them, they get the same $2.50 price. As Field Men, we try to offer these opportunities to as many people as we can, but we can't cover everyone. If you provide it as another service to your customers it is one more reason for them to stick with you for their genetics provider. Once again, SimChoice is very competitively priced and provides great service.

I still have not heard a good excuse to not use SimChoice; but if you have one, let me know and I will do what I can to fix the problem. To order your SimChoice tags or get questions answered, call me, Will Townsend, at 406-548-5770, Jannine Story at 406-587-4531, or your local field man.

Most will be homozygous black and all are polled

There will be 45 big, stout, fall-born 18-month-old bulls. These bulls were born on the range, developed on grass, and will be ready for heavy service.

These cattle are bred to be low maintenance cattle that get the job done with minimal costs and labor inputs.

The Angus bulls are mostly AI sired for several generations by top-calving ease sires.

If you need a powerful heifer bull, these bulls will get the job done.

These bulls are big, powerful, early-born bulls that will carry more age and maturity than about any offering anywhere.

If you desire to raise cattle with volume and thickness that possess calving ease, easy fleshing and maternal traits, you will want to attend this sale. There will be an excellent supply to fill the needs of the top cattlemen that they sell to.
