Editor's Message

Erika Kenner
Editor

Think Spring everyone! We can get through this. It's just around the corner, I'm sure!

Some have started calving and some are gearing up, so hopefully Mother Nature will cooperate. At least the price of beef is high! So the beef industry has a lot to look forward to. Consumers still want to eat beef even though the price is high because we have made a nutritious and delicious product. Cattle producers have improved the quality and consistency so much through the years, and it is due to careful genetic selection. Ranchers are paying attention to the science and it has payed off.

The North Dakota and South Dakota Simmental Associations work hard each year to provide promotional support to their members. The State Association sales were successful and they have both changed their dates for next year, so please take note of the new dates and plan to participate in 2014!

Thank you to all the advertisers this past year. This February issue is the last issue until the fall issue in November, and I truly appreciate all the support. The ND Scene/SD SimmenTeller is very well respected because of you.

Erika

Retiring ASA Director

Kevin Thompson, Almont, ND, receives his Retiring ASA Director Bell from out-going ASA Board Chairman, Jessie Driggers, GA. Kevin served two 3-year terms on the ASA Board and we appreciate his time and dedication to the Simmental breed.

ND Pioneer Award

By: Chris Nicholson

The 2013 North Dakota Simmental Board of Directors awarded the 2013 Pioneer Award to Arlyn Schmidt, 7N Ranch, Medina, ND, at the North Dakota Annual Banquet on December 27, 2013, in Bismarck, ND.

Schmidt has been in the seed stock business for quite some time. His operation started in 1965 as a commercial Hereford cow/calf program. Early in the 1970s, the herd was transitioned into a seed stock operation through exclusive AI breeding to fullblood and purebred Simmental sires. Fleckvieh bulls were the predominant influence through the first 2 decades with a transition to solid red and black Simmentals in the 1990s. In 1994, a select portion of the cow base was bred to Red Angus bulls and have continued to the present day herd of 50% Purebred Simmental and 50% Red Angus cows.

Bulls were marketed private treaty off the farm until 1980 when they had their first auction at Napoleon Livestock. The 7N Simmental Ranch annual sale was held at Napoleon for 20 years. Then in 2000, the sale was moved to the ranch after they built their own sale facility.

Currently their production sale is held on the 2nd Monday in March at the ranch with this year being their 35th Sale. Each year, 80 bulls are marketed to a large, local, repeat customer base.

He has also been very active at the local and state levels within the community. He has served or is currently serving on the following boards—Medina School Board, Stutsman County Weed Board and Water Resource Board, Kidder County Farm Service Committee, North Dakota Stockman's Association, Director for the North Dakota Simmental Board, the local township board, and his local church board.

Schmidt is also still very actively involved and has enjoyed his 35 years as a Medina Lions Member and Medina American Legion Member.

In his younger years, 1953 to be exact, he was a charter member for the Medina FFA, where he competed in livestock judging; and as a senior in high school, earned a gold at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City while representing North Dakota.

He also served in the military for 26 months and was stationed in Iran. The highlight of his military service was meeting his wife, Sourey, whom he will be celebrating 50 years of marriage with on January 30, 2014. They have 2 sons, both active in agriculture, and 2 daughters and have been blessed with 9 grandchildren.

He still loves the daily work on the ranch and enjoys working with his son Doug in partnership of the cowherd. He still heat detects and AI's all the Simmental cows and is excited as ever about the upcoming calf crop.

The North Dakota Board of Directors congratulates Arlyn Schmidt and thanks him for his dedication to his community, his family, and agriculture.

Board members Chris Nicholson and Erika Kenner present Arlyn Schmidt with the Pioneer award.

Commercial Producer Award

By: Annie Allen, The North Dakota Stockman

The North Dakota Simmental Association awarded Dennis and Russ Kunkel of New Salem with the Commercial Producers of the Year Award at the North Dakota Simmental banquet on Dec. 27, in Bismarck.

Dennis and Russ Kunkel have been raising commercial Simmental cattle for nearly 20 years. Dennis's son, Dusty, and Russ's son, Brian, run the family's purebred Simmental operation, while Dennis and Russ are in charge of the commercial operation.

Dennis says they have stuck with raising Simmental cattle because they have worked really well for them. His advice to those interested in raising Simmental cattle is to, "Buy the good ones!" When purchasing bulls for their commercial herd along with being really picky, Kunkels spend a lot of time deciding which bulls to buy, and look closely at the weaning weights of the bulls and bloodlines.

Along with carefully selecting their own breeding stock, Dennis and Russ feel it's important to help out the younger generations that are starting to build up their own operations. "It's important to help out some of these younger guys," said Dennis.

With four generations living on the Kunkel ranch, Dennis and Russ want to have an operation that they can leave to their families and that will support the generations to come.

Board members Cody Hanson and Erika Kenner present the Commercial Producer award to the Kunkel Family.

NDSA Meeting Highlights

ND State Veterinarian, Susan Keller, was the guest speaker at the meeting.

A good crowd attended the ND Annual meeting held at Circle Diamond Ranch Supply in Mandan.

Thank you to Bob Bullinger (center) for allowing us to use the Circle Diamond facility and Lori Thorson, Kindred, ND, (right) for preparing the meals during the weekend.

Kylie Myers, Kathryn, ND, presented the junior report at the ND Annual meeting.

Promoter of the Year

By: Erika Kenner

The North Dakota Simmental Association awarded Doug Bichler, Linton, ND, with the Promoter of the Year Award at the ND Simmental banquet on December 27, 2013 in Bismarck, ND.

Doug Bichler promotes Simmental wherever he goes. Just one conversation with him makes a person realize how passionate he is about the cattle industry, especially the Simmental breed.

He learned by working with his father on their family's ranch at Linton, ND. Growing up, they always had Simmental influence in their commercial herd, and Doug always appreciated the maternal ability and the performance of their Simmental cows. While in high school, at 16 years of age, he purchased his first purebred cows from Andy Wald, and by 2001, he was selling bulls private treaty off the farm.

After graduating NDSU in 2002, he took a job with extension in Carson, ND. In 2005, he was able to move to the Emmons County extension office in Linton where he was able to be on the ranch every day as well. By moving home, it made it easier for him to manage the cattle himself which prompted him to start his bull sale at the Linton Livestock Barn in 2006. This year will mark his 9th Annual Production Sale, and he also has a female sale in the Fall each year.

Doug has been very active with the youth in Emmons County and has always helped with the 4-H Livestock Judging where he is currently the coach. He also gives his nephew many opportunities to learn the cattle business by letting him have a few head of cows at the ranch and has taken him to many junior shows, including the Junior Regional Shows when possible.

During his years on the ND Simmental Board, he was very active and always volunteered to help. The year the ND State Fair was cancelled due to the Minot flood, he took it upon himself to organize the ND Simmental Futurity show later in the summer so the kids would still have the opportunity to show their heifers they had purchased for that show. He always went above and beyond his required responsibilities while on the Board.

The North Dakota Simmental Association is fortunate to have members like Doug who want to be involved and care so much for the success of the cattle and it's members.
